Season's Snowfall at 113 Inches

A 10½-inch snowfall for March has boosted the 1963-64 season's total to 113.75 inches, according to statistics compiled by Bob Edwards, official weather observer for Holland.

March weather was uneventful aside from the fact that the warmest weather occurred during the first week of the month and the coldest weather the last week, laced with snow. While the snowfall totaled 10½ inches, the amount of snow on the ground at observation did not exceed one inch. Three-inch snowfalls occurred March 26 and March 31, the last day bringing out both street and sidewalk plows.

Average temperature for the month was 33.4 degrees or .9 degree below normal. Maximum was 58 degrees, occurring on March 2. Minimum was 7 degrees occurring March 18. Precipitation totaled 3.52 inches or 1.33 inches above normal. Heaviest precipitation fell in a three-day period March 24, 25 and 26. One inch of precipitation in the form of rain fell March 24, with .60 inch of rain and snow the following day and .33 inch in the form of snow (3.5 inches) the third day.

Maximum temperature in March was 58, compared with 72 in 1963, 70 in 1962, 70 in 1961 and 69 in 1960. Minimum was 7, compared with -3 in 1963, -6 in 1962, 15 in 1961 and zero in 1960.

Average maximum was 44.1, compared with 44.6 in 1963, 40.4 in 1962, 47.8 in 1961 and 36.3 in 1960. Average minimum was 22.6, compared with 26.2 in 1963, 25.3 in 1962, 29.2 in 1961 and 16.4 in 1960. Average temperature was 33.4, compared with 35.4 in 1963, 32.8 in 1962, 38.5 in 1961 and 26.4 in 1960.

Precipitation totaled 3.52 inches, compared with 4.09 inches in 1963, 1.35 inches in 1962, 3.21 inches in 1961 and 1.52 inches in 1960. Precipitation fell on 19 days, compared with 17 days in 1963, 10 days in 1962, 17 days in 1961 and 24 days in 1960.

Greatest precipitation in a 24-hour period was 1 inch, compared with 1.13 inches in 1963, .40 in 1962, 60 inch in 1961 and .62 inch in 1960.

Snowfall totaled 10.5 inches, compared with 5 inches in 1963, 9.5 inches in 1962, 5 inches in 1961 and 18.9 inches in 1960.

Greatest snowfall in a 24-hour period was 3½ inches, compared with 2 inches in 1963, 4 inches in 1962, 2½ inches in 1961 and 3½ inches in 1960.

Thieves Steal Blank Checks

The Botsis Beverage Co., 11291 Lakewood Blvd., was broken into Wednesday night, and a number of articles were taken, including two books of blank checks.

Entry was apparently made by the thieves through a window at the rear of the warehouse. Offices in the building were ransacked before the thieves left with an electric adding machine, an electric clock, an electric razor, an unknown quantity of beer and the two books of blank checks.

Harry Oppenhuizen, manager of the firm, said the small blue checks bearing the name of the company are drawn on an account with the People's State Bank.

Oppenhuizen was unable to give an estimate of loss until an inventory is completed.

Thieves Break Into Market

BORCULO — Thieves broke into the Crestview Ranch Market, Borculo, early today and left with cash and articles valued by owner Lester Ohlman of Hudsonville at about $800.

Missing from the market was 45 assorted cartons of cigarettes, a check writer, and $23 in small bills and change. An electric cash register valued at $650 was also taken by the thieves, but was later found by sheriff's deputies in a ditch on 88th Ave., a quarter mile north of Port Sheldon. According to deputies, thieves had broken it open only to find it empty.

The break-in was discovered by Don Koop of Bauer as he was making a produce delivery to the market. Ottawa county sheriff's deputies said thieves had gained entry to the building through a door in the south wall.

Fire Chief Dick Brandt and Lt. Fred Pathuis have returned home after attending a four-day conference on fire fighting in Memphis, Tenn. They were accompanied by their wives.

Quake Survivors Describe Experience to Families

Relatives of local residents survived the Alaskan earthquake and have sent letters to their families here telling them of the quake.

The first letter was written by Mrs. Harry Pursell, daughter of Mrs. Huldah Bequette of 577 Michigan Ave., who with her husband and four children are living in their home located in severely hit Turnagain-by-the-Sea.

The second letter was sent to Mr. and Mrs. John Mrok Sr., of 9 South River Ave. by their son-in-law and daughter, Lt. Col. and Mrs. Robert J. Parr who are stationed at Ft. Richardson Army post near Anchorage with their three children. Mrs. Parr is the former Genevieve Mrok.

Both letters were sent by air from Anchorage and postmarked at Seattle, Wash.

Sunday, March 29

Dear Mom,
Things have settled down some — still have slight tremors but try not to worry about them.

We were all here together when it happened so I didn't have that worry and as severe as our shock was here, didn't realize it was as bad as it was two blocks away or downtown. All I've seen are pictures from the Seattle paper — our own (papers) are out of commission still. The whole bluff section

Zeeland Resident Hears From Sister in Alaska

ZEELAND — Mrs. Dan Wiersma of Zeeland has received a letter from her sister, Mrs. Frank Clark of Palmer, Alaska, saying that all was well.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark have lived in Palmer, about 40 miles from Anchorage, for at least 25 years. The letter stated that they felt the quake in Palmer and that dishes as well as their chimney was damaged.

Mrs. Clark is the former Jennie Kalkman, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Kalkman who resided in Holland.

fell away for about two blocks deep.

All the houses with basements on our street had a great deal of damage to the basements. Our house shifted off the foundation at the back of the garage. Our drive has several breaks, one wall is plaster cracked — had some breakage of smaller things — my burial jug, the antique clock and a few plates.

We are lucky we didn't convert to gas as the lines are broken in our area and those people have no heat still. We had heat within 18 hours when the electricity went on. Our water of course is off still and may be for some time and we have no phone. All this could be so much worse if it were 15 or 20 degrees colder. I had thought of coming out with the children and may do so if we get some word on sanitary needs being irreparable for some time in our area.

The worst news we had was from the refrigerator. I was on the living room floor with Raoul under me to protect her from falling things and I could see the door open and close at least four or five times and each time more things from inside crashed to the floor. What a horrible mess and then no water until we could melt snow. And still we had no idea of the extensive damage in other places.

... we have no tv or school. West High is converted in the classroom action, also one grade school on Government Hill.

You can see all these small faults and cracks in the snow in weird patterns. There is no food shortage. Heat fuel is en route to replace lost supplies. I have no desire to see the damaged area but know I will have to soon.

The "faults" here were not supposed to be as dangerous as in California and lower West coast. Have had quite a bit of volcanic activity in the Aleutian area for the past month that could have been suspect. Certainly will be more alarmed in the future on this sort of thing.

Holy Saturday, 28 March, 1964
Dearest Mom and Dad:
This earthquake yesterday is something which none of us will ever forget but God in His infinite Goodness, spared us all. All of our crystal, some china and all of our "decorated" pieces are no longer whole and our quarters are still full of glass and mess.

Lamps went flying off the tables, a whole china cabinet fell off its sideboard and came tumbling against the dining room table, spilling all the contents and the house just weaved back and forth — how it held together, I'll never know — Bob had his arms around us all in a doorway between the kitchen and the dining room for what appeared to be more than five minutes.

In the kitchen, the dishes fell out of the cabinets, bottles of spices and sauces broke, the coffee pot turned over on the stove — our supper landed on the floor — and again there was broken glass over everything. Anchorage didn't fare too well and since the radio is on now, we have been given to understand that it is a disaster area as declared by President Johnson. There are all kinds of stories that have been going around — but again, as soon as we get details, we'll let you know. We've been told not to use the phone.

Transfer Boy From Jail To Hospital

ALLEGAN — A petition bearing 103 names of Saugatuck residents has resulted in the transfer to the Kalamazoo State Hospital of a mentally ill 16-year-old boy, held in Allegan County jail for the past two years.

Copies of the petition were delivered Friday to Governor George Romney, State Senator Fred Hilbert, State Representative James Farnsworth, Probate Judge Harold Westen and Dr. Harold Schrier, administrator of the state hospital.

By Monday morning a place had been found for the boy at the hospital.

Judge Weston said "undoubtedly pressure was brought to bear as a result of a story about the lad which appeared March 12 in many area newspapers and on tv and radio stations."

The Rev. David Nelson, Saugatuck, minister at the Methodist Church where the boy's family are members, circulated the petition among Saugatuck residents, according to Judge Weston.

City Council Reschedules Charter Vote

City Council Wednesday night rescheduled a special charter amendment election set for April 28 to coincide with the school election June 8, thereby reducing expense and lessening demands on city voters.

The charter amendment proposal calls for changing the range of salary for the municipal judge, replacing the present $3,000 to $6,000 range with $8,000 to $15,000.

Answering a question of Councilman Bertal Slagh on what effect failure to pass the proposal would have on Holland's court, City Manager Herb Holt pointed to a recent communication from Judge Cornelius vander Meulen, now in his 84th year, indicating he would not be running for election and questioning whether his health would permit him to complete his present term which runs to Jan. 1, 1966.

"Judge vander Meulen has done an excellent job in developing one of the most outstanding municipal courts in the state . . . and at a salary far below those paid in other cities," Holt said.

Holt referred to vander Meulen's letter that competent young lawyers in Holland city could not be expected to seek the judge's position at the current salary in that they could not afford to sacrifice their practices for a top salary of $6,000 a year. The charter must allow some flexibility in setting salaries if competent men are to fill the post, Holt said.

City Attorney Gordon Cunningham said it is the trend of cities the size of Holland to maintain municipal courts at terms ranging from four to six years.

Slagh also questioned whether the position were a full time operation and Holt said, again quoting from vander Meulen's letter, that the demand on the court since the city has more than quadrupled in size, plus operating in the jurisdiction of two counties, leaves little or no time for other legal activities, a vast difference from demands when vander Meulen became municipal judge about 16 years ago.

Councilman Henry Steffens asked whether the vote could not be postponed until the next state election to be held in August or September, but was informed that it was desirable to have the election earlier. Vote to reschedule the election was 8 to 1, Steffens dissenting.

The school election calls for electing two members to the Board of Education, one to a four-year term and another to a three-year term. The term of Bernard Arendshorst expires this year. Arthur Seddon, who was elected to a four-year term last year, announced his resignation a few weeks ago since he is being transferred to another position in Schenectady, N.Y.

Next election to name a municipal judge will be in the spring of 1965, but the new term does not take effect until Jan. 1, 1966.

Community College admits two classes a year, one in April and one in October.

Cleanup Week Is Postponed

Cleanup Week has been postponed.

The city engineers' department is changing Cleanup Week which had been scheduled this week due to Tuesday's snow. No new date was set, but it is expected to take place soon since Holland traditionally holds a city-wide cleanup well before the Tulip Time which falls this year May 13 to 16.

For the last few years, Holland follows a general pattern of Cleanup Week one week and pickup week for the following week when city trucks make one visit per street picking up the debris.

Earl F. Price

Civic Center Manager Dies At Age of 71

Earl F. Price, 71, of 22 Cherry St., manager of Civic Center for the last 10 years, died unexpectedly Wednesday in Sparrow Hospital in Lansing. He had gone to East Lansing to spend the Easter weekend with his daughter, Mrs. Clarence Prince and family, and was taken ill Monday. He was admitted to Sparrow Hospital that day.

About 10 days ago he became ill and was taken to Holland Hospital but was released within a few days. At that time he decided to spend the weekend in East Lansing.

Price, who was born in Terre Haute, Ind., came to Holland from Saginaw in 1933 to manage the J. C. Penney Co. At that time the store was located at Eighth and College Ave. In 1938 the store moved to its present location at Eighth St. and River Ave., former site of the Corner Hardware Co.

After 19 years with the local store, Price retired in July, 1952, and two years later was named Tulip Time manager and manager of Civic Center. After two years he dropped the Tulip Time management and concentrated on operating the then new Civic Center.

He was a member of Hope Church, Holland Shrine Club, Saladin Temple in Grand Rapids, and a former member of Holland Exchange Club, Retail Merchants Association and Chamber of Commerce.

Port Sheldon Rejects New Township Hall

PORT SHELTON — By a vote of 131 to 78, property owners in Port Sheldon township Wednesday turned down a $133,000 bond issue to finance a combination township hall, community hall and fire station.

Opposition to the plan as drawn up by a special planning committee was spearheaded mainly by a newly organized citizens group which had considered the $133,000 plan as too plush for the needs of the township.

It is expected the citizens group will advance a new plan which will be a compromise of original proposals for a simple township hall-fire station building and a more elaborate plan incorporating community facilities.

Total vote of over 200 was considered an excellent response in the township.

New Arraignment Is Set for Veneklasen

GRAND HAVEN — Howard M. Veneklasen, 42, Holland, was to be arraigned today in Municipal Court at Grand Haven on a charge of buying and selling cars at his used car lot at Holland without a license.

Veneklasen is now out on bond awaiting trial in the U. S. District Court in Grand Rapids on a charge of concealing cars illegally transported across state boundaries.

Council Adopts Garbage Plan

City Council Wednesday night again faced the garbage problem, and after more than a half hour of discussion voted to implement the No. 2 plan as advanced by Councilman Bertal Slagh which calls for an improved city dump with people paying a fee for using its services.

The No. 1 plan, as favored by the other two members of the Refuse-Solid Wastes Study Committee, Eugene Vande Vusse and Don Oosterbaan, had called for 100 per cent pickup of all household wastes on a contract basis with a private contractor and supervised by the Environmental Health Department.

The voice vote on the No. 2 plan, which was in the form of a substitute motion, was not unanimous, but Mayor Nelson Bosman declared it had carried.

Costs are still under study and are expected to be ready for the next Council meeting two weeks hence.

The No. 2 plan calls for maintaining the present partial collection system and having the city operate a sanitary land fill type disposal. It would require that the dump area be fenced, plus purchase of a new tractor and the services of a trained operator to compact the refuse properly. When the report was submitted earlier this year, costs of a tractor with blade and hydraulic controls, a building to house the tractor and supplies, and fencing at $54,000. This figure is currently under study.

Vande Vusse, committee chairman, said the committee had gone as far as it could go and still remained deadlocked 2 to 1.

Vande Vusse suggested seeking bids from private contractors on complete pickup, with the successful bidder operating the city dump on a land-fill operation and instituting a program which would eliminate or decrease substantially the rat and fly population.

He advocated two bids, one for weekly pickups year round, and the other for weekly pickups eight months of the year and twice weekly pickups during the summer months. The service was estimated to cost about 35 cents a week or $18 a year.

Slagh's proposal called for continued city operation of the dump under improved methods with fees to finance the operation. He said the current budget calls for ¾ mill for dump operations. This would be eliminated and private fees ranging from 25 cents per car to perhaps $15 or more for a truck load would finance the operations.

Councilman Morris Peerbolt, at the risk of being criticized for being unprogressive, felt some attempt should be made first at enforcing the present rigid ordinance which was designed to do away with neighborhood rat infestations, etc. He felt this tool should be given a chance rather than moving into a compulsory program from which there could be no backtracking.

City Manager Herb Holt said the staff of the Department of Environmental Health has a director, a sanitarian, a master plumber and a dog control warden. Stricter enforcement of the present ordinance would require more personnel, it was believed.

Vande Vusse said the city of Battle Creek has two men running down complaints in a city which has about 85 per cent garbage pickup. He said the bulk of cities in Michigan have gone to a full program as the only solution to its garbage problem. He said residential garbage pickup cannot be added to the tax rolls unless similar service is offered business and industry. About 50 per cent of all city residents use private garbage pickup services at present, he said.

Henry Steffens said public health is of extreme importance in the city, and he felt little concern for the persons who have disposal and incinerator installations in their homes.

Harold Volkema expressed concern for that small group of residents on limited or fixed incomes who can dispose of garbage and rubbish more economically than costs quoted in the compulsory pickup and in a way which is no menace to public health.

Mrs. Jack Coster, 79, Succumbs at Home

Mrs. Lula Coster, 79, of 110 East Eighth St., wife of Jack Coster, died early Tuesday at her home following a long illness. She was born in Wichita, Kan., and lived in Holland for the past 28 years.

She is survived by her husband.

New Bicycle Ordinance Introduced

A new bicycle ordinance for Holland was accepted for first reading at a regular meeting of City Council Wednesday night. Final reading and passage is expected two weeks hence.

The ordinance calls for a two-year license at a cost of 50 cents. The license will be some type of identification tag or plate bearing a license number, the name of the city and the expiration date. The plate is not to be removed or altered except on a transfer of ownership or if the bicycle is dismantled or no longer operated upon any street in Holland.

The ordinance was drafted by City Attorney Gordon Cunningham on request of Police Chief Jacob Van Hoff. It differs from a previous ordinance which had required a 25-cent fee for a one-year license. The police chief will have discretion as to type of plate or tag, some of which are attached by sticky tape and others by screws.

Council perhaps set a record for a series of public hearings on seven water main projects in which not one word of opposition, or even of comment, was voiced.

The projects, for which installation was ordered this year, list the following:

In Homestead Ave. from 19th St. to 20th St. and in 19th Street from a point 141 feet west of Homestead Ave. to a point 134 feet east of Homestead Ave.

In Ruth Ave. from Bluebell Dr. to 32nd St.

In Janice St. from Black Bass Ave. to Myrtle Ave., and in Back Bass Ave. from Janice St. to Marlene St., in Joyce Ave. from Janice St. to Marlene St. and in Marlene St. from Black Bass Ave. to Joyce Ave.

In 35th St. from Pine Ave. to Central Ave.

In 19th St. from Diekema Ave. to Plasman Ave.

In Graafschap Rd. from a point 1,487 feet south of 32nd St. to a point 259 feet south of 40th St.

In 37th St. from Columbia Ave. to Lincoln Ave.

In 20th St. from Homestead Ave. to Diekema Ave.

Later in the evening, Council approved a Board of Public Works recommendation to install a water main in Central Ave. from 40th St. south 1,013 feet under the alternate procedure, involving a different financial setup.

A letter from G. W. Haworth, president of Modern Products, Inc., restated the company's need for water and sewer service at 32nd St. and US-31 bypass. A similar statement to the Board of Public Works brought a reply which stated the board again had considered the request but felt at this

Miss June Arla Van Der Kamp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gillis Van Der Kamp of route 3 and Calvin Lee Breuker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Breuker of route 1 were married in a double ring ceremony March 6 by the Rev. John L. Bult.

Scene of the wedding was Overisel Christian Reformed Church which was decorated with an arch candelabra adorned with mums, tree and single candelabra and bouquets of white gladioli and mums tipped with blue.

The bride and her father approached the altar as appropriate wedding music was being played by Mrs. Gerald Kleinhekel, organist. Donald Blaauw sang "O Perfect Love" and "The Wedding Prayer."

Attending the couple were Miss Geneva Meiste, cousin of the bride, as maid of honor; Miss Beverly Breuker, sister of the groom, and Miss Barbara Van Der Kamp, the bride's niece, as bridesmaids; Paul Schreier, cousin of the groom, best man; Bob Breuker and Kendell Van Der Kamp, brothers of the groom and bride, as groomsmen. Dalwyn Van Der Kamp and Herschel Van Der Kamp, brothers of the bride, seated the guests.

The bride's full-length gown of taffeta was styled with a basque bodice with moderately scooped neckline appliqued with Venice lace complemented by full sleeves. Lace appliques accented the full skirt which featured a bow and chapel train. Her headpiece, a cabbage rose, was accented with pearls and released an elbow-length veil. She carried a white Bible covered with white carnations and red roses.

The bride's attendants were gowned in peacock blue taffeta sheath dresses with bell-shaped overskirts. They carried bouquets of daisy type mums tipped in blue.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Van Der Kamp chose a two-piece aqua dress with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations and pink sweetheart roses. The groom's mother wore a pink checked dress with pink mohair jacket and beige accessories complemented by a corsage of carnations and pink sweetheart roses.

Following a reception for 120 guests held in the church the bride changed to a coral mohair suit trimmed with fur, and black and white accessories, and the couple left on a honeymoon to Florida.

Holland Residents Greet McDermott at Sport Show

Terry McDermott, the lone Olympic gold medal winner for the United States, was in Holland Thursday night as a special guest at the Sports Show sponsored by the Holland Jaycees.

McDermott arrived at the Park Township airport shortly after 7 p.m. and was accompanied by his brother-in-law, James Vink.

Terry's wife, Virginia, was unable to make the trip because she was resting following a previous all-day session at Sault Ste. Marie Wednesday where a "Terry McDermott Day" was held, McDermott said.

Eating two hamburgers with everything, french fries and a chocolate malt, Terry recalled that he was the "baby brother of six sisters" but added that they treated him "pretty good."

He said he began skating at the age of 15 and was coached by another brother-in-law and then at the age of 17 or 18 began thinking about the Winter Olympics. He made the 1960 U.S. Olympic skating squad but nothing materialized, only to compete again this year and become the only person to carry a gold medal home for the United States. He also set an Olympic record of 40.1 in winning that 500-meter speed skating race.

On the day of that race, Terry said he naturally had hopes of winning the competition and recalled being nervous; however, he said he "felt it was the day he could do well."

His wife heard the news of his winning over the radio and it was she who finally reached him first to congratulate him. Terry said his wife does not ice skate but does bowl "very well." He also described her as a "good cook."

In spite of all of the public appearances, Terry, who is a sincere, down-to-earth person, still works at "Bunny's" barbershop and worked until 6 p.m. before coming to Holland adding "I have to (work)."

Terry hopes to compete in the 1968 Olympics and when in full training puts in six hours a day — four and one half hours of actual skating with the remaining hours devoted to running, hiking and calisthenics.

About those borrowed skates? It is known that Terry broke his own while in training in Colorado and that coach Leo Freisinger loaned him his skates—those things cost $75 a pair.

Volleyballs

Cribbage was forgotten when two convalescents at Holland Hospital recognized each other as old sea dogs.

Occasion for the meeting was just to kill time at cribbage in Capt. J. F. Fitch's room. The other player who wandered in was Robert MacArthur of Douglas, a chief engineer aboard ships. MacArthur has retired from his ship career but he still operates a marine yard.

Both have sailed the oceans and the Great Lakes and had a lot of yarns to exchange. Capt. Fitch skipped the Michigan, Texaco tanker which visited the local port periodically until a pipeline was installed two years ago. Now he sails the ocean.

Said Fitch's wife: "It happens all the time. Even when we're on vacation he's always running into somebody from the ships. He can't help it. He's a third generation sea dog."

Councilman Henry Steffens quipped at the March 18 meeting of City Council that he considered it a rare privilege to vote for both Republicans and Democrats on the same ballot.

The occasion was electing two representatives from each party to serve on the city canvassing board.

Floods in the Ohio river valley posed a real threat to a Holland couple, Mr. and Mrs. John W. De Vries, 71 West 19th St., and their daughter, Mrs. A. H. Veldhuis.

They left Holland March 3 for a Florida vacation and stopped for the night at a motel in Cellersburg, Ind. During the night, Mrs. De Vries heard water trickling and opened a door to find flood waters gushing in. Motel owners evacuated all guests to Scottsburg, Ind. about 20 miles away. During the night the river rose 37 feet.

It was two days before the De Vrieses could return to the motel where they found their car and contents a complete loss. De Vries managed to wade into the water and recover a few items of soggy clothing.

On Sunday, March 8, the trio was met in Indiana by Mrs. Veldhuis' husband, who drove them back to Holland.

There was no Florida vacation.

Park Supt. Jacob De Graaf and City Treasurer Jack Leenhouts also encountered a few flood experiences returning from a conference in West Virginia.

Travelers seldom keep up fully with the news and when the two saw lots of activity at a large bridge, they got out of their cars and got a closer look. People in work clothes were busy with sand bags, etc. All other people had been warned to keep away . . . far away.

The two Hollanders were not challenged.

"Maybe they thought we were federal inspectors," Jake said.

But they did detour 100 miles to the north to go through Washington, Pa., on the return trip.

Only three new families moved into Holland during February to be welcomed by the city hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale H. Weidemann and daughter of Pittsfield, Mass., moved into a duplex at 127 West 24th St. Mr. Weidemann is with General Electric.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Ryce of Rolla, Mo., are living at 418 West Lakewood Blvd. Mr. Ryce is a department manager at Thrifty Acres. There are no children.

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Callahan of Detroit have purchased a home at 46 East 29th St. Mr. Callahan is with Holland Color Chemical Co. The Callahans have two children.

Had a birthday lately? Better check your operator's license. Maybe it has expired. Expiration date is every three years on the birthdate.

We got a chuckle out of this letter sent to a Maryland Senator some time ago. It read:

Dear Senator: I have a dependent relative who has very little fiscal responsibility. He means well, but he keeps buying presents for my wife and me, charging them to my account!

When he sees something he thinks he might need, he buys it and I have to pay. These things are rarely what we'd have bought ourselves. Because he doesn't work for a living, money doesn't mean much to him.

He is generous to the poor and needy, with my money — and gives to the unworthy too.

WE DON'T NEED YOUR AID

Probably as much has been written on the foreign aid program as any piece of legislation that has appeared before Congress. Every year citizens in private and public life point out the tremendous cost and try to make an analysis of the results. They also get some stock answers.

Those who have the temerity to argue that much of the aid program is good money thrown after bad are told that they simply don't have the facts in hand. One can't make a valid observation on the program without some inside information on what has been done. We'll go along with this, at least to some extent. But we would like to enter this rejoinder from the recent news.

In the Far East there has come into being a new country, Malaysia. It has great promise of being a democratic nation. Already President Sukarno of Indonesia has indicated his desire to take over the country and annex it to his own empire. Most recently the United States has informed Indonesia that it would not receive any new aid from this country until the Malaysian dispute was settled. In the past we have poured millions into Indonesia. What has been the reaction of Sukarno?

In a recent speech at a ground-breaking ceremony for a new government building, Sukarno boasted, "We can do without aid. We'll never collapse. Indonesia is rich in manpower with its 106 million inhabitants — not like Malaysia with its 10 million."

As we said before, we'll go along with the rejoinder from the proponents of foreign aid, that we don't have all the answers nor all the insight. But on the other hand, the average citizen isn't stupid. And when we hear this far eastern dictator tell us that he doesn't need our aid, we are more than glad to take his word for all this.

Somewhat or other we can't see the wisdom of insisting that nations take our money when they aren't in sympathy with our goals. We need a bit more explaining from the inside to put up with a Sukarno. And we are quite sure he isn't the only one of his kind who has been at the foreign aid trough. Most citizens know that real friends aren't made in this way. Last year a government fact-finding committee indicated that our thinking on this wasn't naive. It was quite realistic. What is your opinion?

Sunday School Lesson

Sunday, April 5
This is God's Universe
Isaiah 40:21-26
By C. P. Dame

Sunday we hope to begin a new series of lessons. The topic of the series is, "The Christian Faces His World." Fittingly the first lesson directs our attention to God, the Creator and Sovereign Ruler of this universe. This is indeed God's universe—this is the truth to consider in this lesson.

I. God is the Creator. Our lesson text is taken from Isaiah 40, which is a beautiful chapter. The chapter tells about the incomparable majesty and greatness of God. We today are learning more and more about the wonders of this universe but it is not giving us a greater idea of God. Our knowledge of God should increase constantly.

Isaiah reminds us that God is a Person. That means that He is not a force or a power. We can speak to God and use the word, "Thou" just as we speak to one another and say, "You." Note too that God is active. He has done marvellous things in the past for He "measured the waters in the hollow of His hand, and meted out heaven with the span and comprehended the dust of the earth in a measure, and weighed the mountains in scales, and the hills in a balance." And God is active now. He is the unconstructed God—differing from us for we need counsel.

II. God is Great. Isaiah lived in turbulent times. We are too. The prophet compares God with the nations "Behold, the nations are as a drop in a bucket, and are counted as the small dust of the balance; behold, He taketh up the isles as a very little thing." The inhabitants are as grasshoppers in comparison with God "who sitteth upon the circle of the earth." It is still true that "the princes become nothing"—think of Hitler for instance. Leaders in politics, industry, and in labor are soon forgotten. This history teaches.

III. God is in control. The Jews were easily lured to idolatry. God objects to being likened to man-made idols. Isaiah calls God "the Holy One"—idolatry and immorality often went hand in hand. God demands Holy living and the idolaters preferred sinful living and that is why idolatry appealed to them.

The prophet calls us all to lift up our eyes on high and behold the stars which God created. Isaiah uses the word "create" fifteen times in chapter 40 through 55. God created every star and knows its name and directs its course and keeps it in its place—the great Dipper is never missing from the sky—"not one is missing." He who created the stars and manages them will care for us and can be trusted to direct us daily.

Boeve Co. Given Water Main Bid

GRAND HAVEN — City Council Monday night awarded a contract to install a mile-long water main to Boeve Construction Co. of Holland and Grand Haven at low bid price of $30,959.10.

The main will extend from US-31 on Robbins Rd. east to Beech Tree St. and north on Beech Tree St. one block to the new Nazarene Church.

The Boeve Co. bid was the lowest of seven submitted. Council also considered a recommendation to change names of 18 streets in the city. Council previously had approved changes three weeks ago but rescinded action after many protests from elderly citizens.

Council set April 13 for an unofficial hearing on the name changes and urged interested residents to attend.

Township Officials Meet With Council

An attitude of "let bygones be bygones" prevailed at an informal meeting of the Holland township board and City Council Tuesday night in the newly remodeled township office on 120th Ave. between Lakewood Blvd. and James St. The meeting had been pending since an exchange of letters last November.

Many problems of community-wide interest were discussed including water, environmental health, planning, building codes and Project Windmill. Holland Township Supervisor James Brower presided.

Township officials explained the engineering study on water now in progress by Black and Veatch, consulting engineers who conducted all the engineering studies on water problems in this area including the city of Holland, city of Zeeland and city of Wyoming. Holland township retained the services of this firm last fall.

In studying a water program for the area, township officials were assured that recommendations resulting from such a study would receive careful consideration from City Council and the Board of Public Works.

Attending for the township were Glenn Van Rhee, John Deters, Al Nienhuis, Julius Karsten and Maurice Vander Haar, and for the city Mayor Nelson Bosman, John Van Eerden, Richard W. Smith, Bertal Slagh, Morris Peerbolt, Eugene Vande Vusse, Don Oosterbaan and City Manager Herb Holt.

Plans were discussed for a tea and model meeting for prospective members to be held April 13. A new group project was also initiated for a Bee-Line fashion show consisting of spring and summer fashions to be held in May.

The cultural hour headed by Miss Shirley Ver Hulst centered around the topic "Am I a Happy Person?" Included in the discussion were several excerpts on happiness from the writings of well-known people.

Crampton Stock Plan Explained

GRAND RAPIDS — John H. Scott, president of the Crampton Manufacturing Co. which operates plants in Grand Rapids, Holland and Douglas, said today that the board of trustees has approved and recommended for shareholders approval the agreement announced March 20 by Crampton Manufacturing Co. and Gulf and Western Industries, Inc.

Under these agreements, Gulf and Western would acquire all assets of Crampton, subject to all liabilities on the basis of one common share of Gulf and Western for 5 1/4 shares of Crampton. This exchange which is tax free must be approved by more than 50 per cent of the shareholders. Shareholders will hold a special meeting April 20, the record date at the end of business April 6, 1964.

Scott urged shareholders to await receipt of detailed information on why the board believes the Gulf and Western proposal to be in the best interest of all shareholders.

The Crampton board has called for redemption as of April 1, 1964, all shares of the 6 per cent convertible accumulative preferred (par value $10) at $11 per share plus accrued dividends to date of payment June 1, 1964. Preferred shareholders are reminded that shares of preferred stock are convertible into four shares of Crampton common stock at any time prior to the fourth day before the date of payment.

If converted, the shares would participate along with all other shares of common stock in the Gulf and Western proposal.

Scott took exception to statements in the most recent of a series of letters addressed to Crampton shareholders by Spartron Corporations dated March 28, 1964.

Scott said: "John Smith knows quite well, assuming the Gulf and Western deal is approved by Crampton, that every share of stock received by Crampton in payment for its assets would be promptly distributed pro-rata to Crampton shareholders. Neither Smith, a former director of Crampton, nor Leonard O. Zick, presently a Crampton director, has ever had occasion until the above mentioned letter was addressed to Crampton shareholders, to take issue with Crampton conservative policies as regards salaries, bonuses, company cars and other matters. Smith and Zick also know that no acquisition has ever been made by Crampton or affiliated companies in recent years."

Scott also pointed out that shareholders should realize that under existing law there can be no wholesale selling of shares of the stock of Gulf and Western or Crampton. He said if the Gulf and Western exchange is consummated, it will be tax free — something not true of the Spartron offer.

Scott added all Crampton shareholders will shortly receive full information on the business and financial position of Gulf and Western, and the steps to be taken in case the proposal is approved.

Boat Ramp Is Planned

Work is expected to start this week on a new boat ramp at Kollen Park, Park superintendent Jacob De Graaf said today, and the ramp will double the size of the former ramp.

The ramp will be 24 by 30 feet with a 24-inch platform in the center for persons to walk on, De Graaf said. A new concrete pad will extend six feet beyond the present slab, six inches thick with concrete walls on the side.

De Graaf said the work is scheduled to start this week, depending on the weather. A private contractor will build the ramp for $970 and the funds were allocated last July 1 as part of the 1963-64 city budget.

The ramp will be built to compensate for the water level in Lake Macatawa this year, De Graaf said. The present ramp was in need of repair, De Graaf said.

The ramp at the public fishing site at the Conservation Department public fishing site isn't usable and it would appear that dredging would be the only way the ramp would be accessible.

Harold Bowditch, Ottawa County conservation officer, said he didn't know of any plans to dredge the area around the ramp but suggested the public write to the Fisheries Division of the Conservation Department, Lansing, asking for assistance on the ramp.

Goal of Chinese Student At Hope Is Knowledge

In a college town where foreign students are no novelty, a 21-year-old Chinese girl, Diana Yu, is undoubtedly the most cosmopolitan student on the Hope College campus.

Speaking four languages (she has lived in five countries) the petite Miss Yu is a German major at Hope. When she graduates next year, she would like to continue her study of the German language in Germany.

She is proficient in German, Chinese, English and Spanish. Shortly after her parents, who work for the Nationalist Chinese government, arrived in New York from London, Diana was born. She and her parents later escaped from Nanking, China, to Hong Kong 24 hours before it fell to the Communists.

Miss Yu then lived in Formosa for a number of years where her father was the minister of Foreign Affairs for the Nationalist government.

From Formosa the Yu family moved to Peru where Mr. Yu was counselor to the Chinese embassy in Lima. He is now the Nationalist Chinese Ambassador in Jamaica. The embassy is in Kingston.

Miss Yu is one of 23 Chinese students on the Hope campus. She explained the studious disposition of all Chinese students by saying "My family was one of many who left the mainland and went to Hong Kong when the Communists took over. Nobody was able to take anything with him except what he knew. From these experiences we learned the importance of knowledge. I study first and will have fun later."

The whole Yu family shares Diana's zest for life and learning. Both parents hold Masters degrees from the University of Edinburgh, Scotland. Her eldest brother Victor is working for his Ph.D. degree in physics at the University of Maryland. Grandfather Yu is the head of the judicial branch of the Chinese government which is a position similar to the head of the U. S. Supreme Court.

Holland Firm Wins Top Award

One of Holland's newest industries, Kars Petersen, Inc., has been awarded first place in the Ottawa county competition for "Product of the Year" which is associated with Michigan Week May 17 to 23.

The Holland Chamber of Commerce described the Petersen product as a rubber-like molded plastic disc with raised edges about two inches in diameter used to stabilize vibrating office machinery, hold furniture in place, etc.

This castor-like cup, with a non-drying mastic paper backing, is sold under the name of "Stop," a registered trademark of the Holland firm which also turns out "Hush" pads for outboard motors.

These cups are used for stopping the creeping of automatic washers, furniture, children's beds, office desks, typewriter stands, office machines, power tools, game tables and many other large objects which have a tendency to move when in operation.

The local firm is less than a year old and already is in its second location, necessary because of expansion dictated by nation-wide acceptance of the product.

Affiliated with Petersen are Louis Hekman and Bernard Brookema.

County winners in other categories this year are the Automatic Poultry Feeder Co. of Zeeland for an automated egg collector in the agricultural division, and the city of Grand Haven for its musical fountain in the economic achievement division for municipalities. ## Views From The Campus

(Dr. Robert W. Cavanaugh is chairman of the Department of Music at Hope College. He received his A.B. from the University of Wisconsin in 1937, a B.M. in 1939 and M.M. in 1940 from the American Conservatory of Music and his Ed.D. in Musicology in 1952 from the University of Michigan. Editor's note.)

By Dr. Robert W. Cavanaugh
One of the finest legal minds of our time, the late Judge Learned Hand, once innocently inquired at a social gathering, "What's a Mickey Mantle?" It is highly unlikely that many people would find it necessary to ask the same question, but educators should be deeply concerned if students ask "What's a Robert Frost?" or "What's a Rembrandt?" or "What's a Beethoven?"

For that matter, all educational institutions should deliberately attempt to expose young minds to all matters of worth. The preoccupation today with scientific and technological achievement is important, but, to paraphrase a remark of Robert Shaw, it is necessary not only to consider the value of matter — it is vitally necessary also to consider the matter of value.

The tragedy in "specialized" education is the lack of familiarity with all the great ideas and great ideals in human history. Man is infinitely poorer in spirit if he knows how to build dams (so does the beaver!) and does not know how to be enriched by Leonardo da Vinci's "The Last Supper" or Handel's "Messiah" (or to reach for the summit) "The Sermon on the Mount."

The great task for a department of music is to contribute its unique share of the "matter of value" to all students. Musicians have the vital mission of training major students as deeply and broadly as possible in the theoretical and technical aspects of the field. But, equally, or perhaps more importantly, the Music Department should instill a musical camaraderie in the entire student body and in the community at large.

Hope College maintains several large active musical ensembles. The Chapel Choir, the Chancel Choir, the Orchestra, the Band, and the Symphonette have a total student membership of over three hundred students from all areas of the student body. The number of concerts and recitals offered to the public, without charge, averages seventy-five annually. Private lessons and courses in music literature or theory are offered every semester, designed for the general student. The record library and the music section of the general library offer recordings and books on music to appeal to all tastes and all levels of musical understanding.

The City of Holland has contributed a great deal to Hope College, but the association must be a two-way street. The many concerts and recitals presented annually by the music department and open to the citizenry of Holland are one means of recognizing a cultural responsibility to the community, with the hope that more people will accept the invitation to attend these events and establish a closer cultural bond for all.

Finally, in Hope College, dedicated to the cause of Christian education, a department of music must be alert to the cause of high musical standards for the church. This dedication must be applied not only to courses in music of the church, but to the music furnished in sacred concerts by the choirs,

Dr. Robert Cavanaugh in the myriad church appearances of student soloists, in lectures, and in friendly personal discussions.

Sidney Lanier, the American poet, once wrote, "Music is love in search of a word." This thought can well serve as a motto for a college music department. It teaches that music can be the great catalyst in its universal appeal to all that is good in Man. It means that music has the power to transcend political, as well as provincial and linguistic boundaries; it means also that music can reach down to probe into the heart when words often fail — or send the heart soaring in

The Rev. D. W. Walters, minister from Reformed Bible Institute was guest minister at the Haven Christian Reformed Church.

The morning sermon subject of the Rev. Fred Hildenbrand, pastor of the Free Methodist Church was "Resurrection Power." There was an evangelistic service in the evening.

The advanced Woods Class at Zeeland High School has been a center of interest the past three weeks as under the direction of Robert Drew, instructor, the class of 23 junior and senior boys are "mass producing" porch swings.

A total of 21 mahogany swings are being made. Each has 51 pieces making the total number of pieces 1,171. The class has spent six hours on the project which would equal 138 single man hours.

All 21 swings have been sold and the project will not be repeated again this semester as the students have individual assignments to complete. A mass produced project will be considered for another year since so much success was enjoyed with this project.

Optimists Host Dr. J. Lubbers At Noon Meeting

"The Million Club," a film produced by the American Cancer Society, was shown at the luncheon of the Holland Noon Optimists in Cumerford's Restaurant Monday. Dr. Paul Boven, program chairman, introduced Dr. J. A. Lubbers, a member of the Holland Board of the American Cancer Society, who gave a supplemental talk on cancer.

Lubbers gave the seven danger signals of cancer, which are unusual bleeding or discharge, a lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere, a sore that does not heal, change in bowel or bladder habits, hoarseness or cough, indigestion or difficulty in swallowing and change in a wart or mole.

The local branch of the Cancer Society, located at 6 West Eighth St., loans beds, walkers, wheelchairs, and rubber sheets to cancer patients. Women working for the local unit have made thousands of dozens of dressings which they distributed.

Each year a fund-raising campaign for the Cancer Crusade is held in April.

The local branch has several films pertaining to cancer, which they will show to interested groups or organizations. A recent film "To Smoke or Not to Smoke" is proving very popular and effective, especially to teenagers.

In 1963 cancer claimed 284,000 victims in America, being the second highest in death rates. For the city of Holland, with a population of approximately 25,000, it is estimated there will be 107 cancer patients in 1964, of which number death will claim 37. It is expected there will be about 70 new cases, 23 of which will be cured.
